First Legion Show Draws Fine Crowd

Sierra Madre Post No. 297 of the American Legion staged its first public event Wednesday night, got the legion message, before a fine crowd of people, entertained them merrily with the assistance of Ed. "Buck" Stone, millionaire cowboy wrestler and the Pasadena Firemen's band, and incidentally came out on the right side of the ledger.

Ed "Buck" Stone is a modest young man of somewhat bashful mein. But nobody who saw him perform would think of treating him mean because of that mein. His 318 pounds seem capable of too many things. He began by hooking up with ropes between the city fire truck and a Pierce Arrow touring car which was supposed to pull the truck from the city hall to the Sierra Madre Garage. He took the full force of the pull between the two but the manner in which he started the fire truck moving before the touring car began to pull seemed to make the latter really unnecessary.

At the Club House
After some snappy selections by the Pasadena Firemen's Band, Major C. S. Floyd, commandant of the Post, told briefly of the history of the organization and its aims. The thing which had made it really feasible after a long agitation was the action of the city trustees in granting free use of the new Park house as a meeting place. Now that the Post is regularly established, the full cooperation of all local service men is greatly desired. There are many things the post can do for the service men, especially in assisting in unwinding the red tape which clutters up such matters as bonus applications, insurance and relief.

Post Adjutant Harold F. Roberts also spoke briefly of the opportunity for service which exists in Sierra Madre with the unusual number of disabled service men who live here. But to meet this opportunity the aid of every able bodied service man is required.

More band selections were followed by stunts by individual band members. The bass drummer of the band is Griffo, former wrestling champion of Australia who did a fine swinging act.
Young Mr. Stone probably uses the "millionaire" tag to his name to prove that his riches do not give him an aversion to hard work. His strong man stunts consisted chiefly of bending and twisting iron bars about various portions of his anatomy. The big number was the breaking of a 300-pound rock with a sledge as it lay on his chest. It took four men to lift the rock into place and all of Griffo's strength with the hammer to crack it. After breaking it in two, one of the pieces was broken in turn. The program wound up with an interesting wrestling bout between Stone and Griffo, which gave the crowd a lot of thrills and tense moments.

FIRST PICNIC OF CAMPFIRE GIRLS PLANNED

The first summer meeting of the Sierra Madre Camp Fire Girls was held, under the new guardian, Mrs. Milton Steinberger, in the Community house, Saturday, June 28.

The next regular meeting will be a basket picnic in Brookside Park July 17. Girls in the last years group are invited to attend. Everyone must be at the Community house by 3:30 P. M. Bring bathing suits and lunch.

CHURCH OF THE ASCENSION

During the absence of the Rector, the Rev. William Carson Shaw, only one service on Sundays will be held, that being at 11 a. m. and consisting of a choral celebration of the Holy Eucharist with sermon. Next Sunday, the priest-in-charge will be the Rev. Benjamin J. Darnelle, curate of St. John's Church, Los Angeles.

Bonus Papers To Be Given Out By Post

Next Wednesday night, at the regular meeting of the Sierra Madre Post No. 297 of the The American Legion to be held in the Park House, ex-service men and women and the dependents of deceased ex-service persons who may be entitled to the benefits of the Adjusted Compensation Act, or "bonus," may receive application blanks. Instructions will be given as how to fill them out, make finger prints, and comply with the other requirements of applying for the "bonus."

The Legion urges all who are interested to attend, whether Legionnaires or not; mothers, wives, and others classed as dependents of those who died in the service or subsequently, being particularly invited.

Discharge Papers Needed
Those who wish to complete the applications then and there should bring their discharge certificates, as it is virtually impossible for anyone to fill out the application blank unless he has his discharge certificate or a copy thereof, there being much information on the certificate which must be transferred to the application.

The American Legion and the Red Cross have been designated as the two principal agencies for the distribution of "bonus" blanks, and the local representatives of the two organizations will work together in an effort to offer the maximum service to those eligible to receive the adjusted compensation.

Applications By Mail
If those who are disabled and unable to apply in person for the application blanks will mail a card to Harold F. Roberts, Adjutant of the Legion, 142 E. Central Avenue, he will see that they receive the necessary papers and instructions.

Briefly, the Adjusted Compensation Act provides that veterans shall receive additional compensation for service in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps at the rate of $1 a day for overseas service, to be granted in the form of a 20-year endowment insurance policy, except that those entitled to a credit of $50 or less shall be paid in cash. The $60 bonus given the veteran at the time of discharge is deducted from the amount due him. The face of the insurance policy will be for approximately two and one-fourth times the amount of the veteran's service credit. After the second year, the endowment policy has high loan values, and may be used as a basis of credit for borrowing money for necessary purposes. Should the policy holder die before the twenty years are up, his beneficiary will receive the face of the policy, less incumbrances, and should the insured live out the twenty years, he will receive the face amount of the policy in cash.

ROBERTS CAMP NOW HAS OWN TRAIL TRAIN

Manager J. E. Clarke of Roberts camp announces the establishment of saddle and pack train service with their string of animals. The stables are located on the W. B. Corum property at the end of the Sturtevant trail auto road.

By means of this new arrangement Mr. Clarke expects to serve the patrons of Roberts Camp and the rest of the Big Santa Anita canyon much more directly and conveniently than in the past. Auto parties can drive directly to Corum's parking place, and transfer themselves and their baggage to the trail animals. Parties coming out on the electric cars can take the bus to the same point.

The new pack train is at present transporting the mail to the Roberts Camp Post Office. Only letter mail is handled at present. The government has not been able to find anybody who will enter a contract to carry the parcel post and other bulky mail at a price the post office department is willing to pay.

The American's Creed

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people, whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign Nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable, established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies.—William Tylor Page.

Fire Menace Puts Ban On Many Trails

Facing the greatest fire menace ever known in the mountains, the officials of federal, state, county and municipal forest areas have taken radical steps to secure safety over the Fourth of July week end. So many people will take the period from Thursday to Monday as a holiday that the period of danger from that source is prolonged and multiplied.

Twenty-six canyons and trails in the Angeles National forest were ordered closed to traffic by forest Supervisor Charlton on Wednesday. The order remains effective the rest of the week, and some of them may remain closed all through the season, according to advices from the federal offices.

No Fireworks
Stringent regulations against fireworks or firecrackers of any kind in or adjacent to the forest reserve are in force. The danger from this source is so great that violation of the order will bring severe penalties, according to Forest Patroman Adam Mueller who has the Sierra Madre area in charge.

Local Trails Open
Neither the Mount Wilson Trail nor the Sturtevant Trail is closed by the order published on Thursday by Supervisor Charlton. The trails and canyons included in the order are as follows:

Little Tujunga Canyon north from Sparkhule ranch; all of Wilson canyon; Trail Canyon from Big Tujunga to Mt. Gleason; West Fork of the San Gabriel Canyon from Camp West Fork to Bear Creek; Sawpit Canyon from Monrovia City Park to head of Canyon; Monrovia Trail from Monrovia City Park to San Gabriel Divide; all of Brown's Gulch; Big Rock Creek from Luckel Ranch to mouth of Vincent's Gulch; all of Little Dalton Canyon.

Sierra Madre Scouts Go To Second Camp

The second camp period, at Cherry Valley, Catalina Island, which the Sierra Madre Scouts are to attend, will be from July 10 to July 19th inclusive, instead of from the 8th to the 18th as reported to the News last week.

It is not yet too late for Sierra Madre scouts to register for this camp, provided they do so at once, either with Scoutmaster Stovall, or at Pasadena scout headquarters. As stated before the entire expense will be but $12.50 for the ten-day period.

Travel in Style
Quite likely the Sierra Madre scouts, who will leave Pasadena Pacific Electric station shortly after seven on the morning of the 10th will have the pleasure of making the trip to the island on the magnificent new steamer, the Catalina.

Boys who go on this trip will arrange their own transportation, thru relatives or friends with motor cars from Sierra Madre to Pasadena. The same means will be employed to get them home when they arrive at Pasadena at the end of the trip, Saturday evening, July 19th, about 8:30.

What To Take
Each scout will take with him two pairs of heavy blankets and a quilt, or equivalent, change of underwear and stockings; pajamas; towels; handkerchiefs; soap in a box; needles and thread; tooth brush and paste; pins; blanket pins; comb; pocket knife; bathing suit; pencil; notebook, scout handbook and a good appetite as well as a happy disposition.

Kodaks and films may also be taken along, musical instruments, signal flags, and material with which to make bows and arrows.

Scoutmaster Stovall and Assistant Scoutmaster Ivan Munson will both accompany the Sierra Madre contingent for the second camp period. It is hoped that thirty or more scouts from Troop One will go.

Auto Pushed Against Curb By P. E. Car

Walter Annas in a Chevrolet touring car, and the eight o'clock Pacific Electric car bound for Los Angeles had a dispute over the right of way in front of the Sierra Madre Paint and Paper Store Wednesday morning. The electric car won, both as to occupancy of the tracks and subsequent condition. Beyond a severe shaking up and some bruises to Annas, nobody was hurt. The rear end of the Chevrolet was wrecked by the collision and the front end was driven against the curb and badly wrenched.

Another Chevrolet belonging to A. Arthur was parked alongside the space just vacated by the Annas car. The latter was shoved against Arthur's car and crumpled up the rear fender.

According to Annas, he had looked around before starting to back away from the curb and could see no car approaching. He backed out onto the car tracks and before he could straighten out to drive south, the electric car struck his rear end. The car crew on the other hand claimed that he backed out in front of them so quickly they could not avoid the collision. Conductor Jeremiah was in charge.

The "I told you so" crew were busy on the job as soon as a crowd began to gather. Plenty of people have prophesied that accidents will occur as long as parking of autos is permitted in the narrow space between the car tracks and the west curb on Baldwin Avenue. There is serious danger every time an electric car passes that point going in either direction. Many minor accidents have occurred there, and it seems only a question of time until a fatality will occur unless the condition is corrected in some way.

When you whack up with another fellow, you both have enough.

What a world we should have if men were as eager about the business of making a life, as about the business of making a living.

Roses sometimes bloom in mud; but they look better in clean surroundings.

Pay Increase Granted For City Officers

City Marshal A. M. Udell starts the new fiscal year with a welcome advance in salary as a result of action taken at last week's meeting of the city trustees. For performing the duties of marshal, street superintendent, license collector and purveyor of dog tags, building, electrical and plumbing inspector etc., he now receives $225 a month.

The matter of an advance in salary was presented to the trustees by W. E. Doty and F. M. Hildebrandt, who said neighboring cities were paying much higher salaries for similar offices. Their statement that Mr. Udell's services merited a higher salary was concurred in promptly by Trustees Porter, Bacon and Topping. Other members of the board agreed that the increase would be justified if funds were available. It was pointed out that the increase would come out of the tax levy for the new fiscal year and while ready cash is scarce to keep the city going until the new tax money becomes available, the amount of the increase would make no particular difference in the method of immediate financing the city until that time.

This increase is in line with the increases granted recently to Water Superintendent Tom Henderson who now draws $190, and City Clerk Dietz who draws $185 for that office in connection with the office of water department accountant.

Increase in the salary of the city nurse, Mrs. R. M. Barker, was taken under consideration but action was deferred pending the outcome of negotiations with the school board. The proposal has been made that the duties of the public school nurse and of the municipal nurse be combined and this would require a new salary arrangement, to be shared by city and school district.

The question as to what extent the city nurse should assist in caring for individual cases of sickness was raised in connection with some complaints which had been made to Trustee Karicofe that needed assistance was not available. Some of the complaints were shown to have arisen in previous administrations of the nurse's office. The discussion made it apparent that the members of the board were not particularly familiar with the numerous detailed duties required of the nurse by state law and city ordinance. Mrs. Barker showed that it would be impossible for the city nurse to give much more than temporary and emergency attention to individual cases, outside of the service that can be rendered by periodical visits. These are made, she explained, as often as her duties will permit.

To ensure greater familiarity with the important work of the health department in future, and to secure the greatest degree of cooperation between nurse, health officer and other city departments, the board voted to have a special standing committee on health and sanitation. It was also decided that no attention would be paid to complaints which were not made specific and in writing.

SERMON TOPICS FOR BETHANY

The subjects of the sermons of Dr. Elwood P. Lyon at Bethany Temple for Sunday July 6th will be as follows:

7:30 P. M. "The Kingdom."

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend these services.

THE KIND OF TOWN YOU LIKE

San Bernardino Sun: Something like a decade ago the idea took hold all over the country that aspiring towns should advertise. So universally boards of commerce and citizen's committees and town councils began to think up slogans and the whole world was exhorted to "Watch Wingtown Win," and "Boost for Bingtown."

For a long time the making of the slogan seemed to be about all that was done in these local advertising enterprises. It never occurred to any body that people don't rush to a town and plead to be permitted to stop there because of its slogan. Many of the places having the most enticing slogans also had the most wretched hotel accommodations. It was a common remark of those who attempted to drive an automobile through the country that the improved roads of the township were vastly safer and better than the main streets of the villages. These were frequently left so full of holes and ruts and cut up with elevated crosswalks that diving a motor car over them faster than 10 miles an hour was perilous performance. Nevertheless at the entrance of nearly ever village was the hostile warning that anyone driving faster than a certain speed limit would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. And the village constables and justices of peace were frequently in a league of watchful waiting to make good the threat.

All this has changed now. A new spirit of hospitality is spreading. Nearly every town or village likes to be known for its courtesy to tourists. Pavements are of the best. Signs at the city limits welcome the stranger and hint without offense that his self-restraint in observing the local speed regulations will be appreciated. The slogan is not necessary in such towns. The stranger not only watches but wishes the growth of a community in which he has been so kindly treated.

NEWS WANTADS PAY

SPEED LAWS ARE BASED ON GOLDEN RULE

The automobile driver of today has little reason to kick against the speed regulations, compared to the restrictions placed on motorists 20 years ago when the motor vehicle was in its infancy. This is demonstrated by glancing through the early day ordinances and activities of the motorists, that form a part of the archives of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

In 1904 authorities were protesting raising the speed limit to more than 8 miles an hour for cities. It was pointed out that autos were frightening horses and were a menace to lives and property. Motorists wanted the speed limit raised, and finally a compromise was effected whereby cars were permitted the exhilarating pace of 12 miles an hour. This limit applied, however, only to the outlying districts.

Highway Races

It was about this time that the Automobile Club of Southern California sought to discourage the then growing practice of turning every highway into a race course. This was about the time that the average automobile owner thought of his vehicle only in the terms of speed. The substantial qualifications of endurance, reliability, and utility were secondary.

Ten years later, or in 1914, the laws permitted greater speed in the open districts, but provided more restrictions. Six miles an hour was permitted in the congested districts; eight miles was the limit on detours; 10 miles over crossings; 12 miles in the business district and past schools; 20 miles in the residence district; and 25 on the open road.

Simpler Laws Now

Today there are less restrictions on the motorists and greater speed permitted, but the driver is expected at all times to refrain from recklessness. The law insists that judgment and courtesy be used, in whatever zone the car is being operated. Thirty-five miles an hour is allowed on the open road, 20 miles in residence districts; and 15 miles in business districts, but with the passing of time the tendency has come to make the penalties for speed violation greater. It has been shown that only a very small percentage wilfully violate the law, so that motorists in general approve of severe penalties.

INSTITUTE FOR CITRUS MEN IN PASADENA SOON

Emphasizing the economic factors which make up the most serious problems in the citrus industry at the present time, the second Southern California Citrus Institute will be held under the auspices of the Agricultural Extension Service and Southern California Farm Bureaus in Pasadena, July 18, followed by the seventh Annual Pest Control School on July 19.

The principal discussions on the Institute program deal with quantity production in relation to costs; quantity production in relation to profit; recent Florida developments and their relation to the California citrus industry; packing house cost and the possible economies; and possibility of increasing consumption by direct sales.

A special feature of the program will be the launching of the Southern California Citrus Growers Department of the Farm Bureau. The sessions will be held in the auditorium of the Pasadena High School, Friday and Saturday, July 18 and 19.

Wins Diploma As Writer of Braille Books

Official appointment as a Volunteer Braille Transcriber for the American Red Cross has been received by Mrs. M. D. Welsher of Sierra Madre after a course of lessons under the Braille department for the blind of the Library of Congress at Washington.

Mrs. Welsher received her certificate this week, bearing the signatures of John Barton Payne, chairman of the Central Committee, Gertrude T. Rider, national advisor on Braille, and Mabel T. Boardman, secretary of the national organization. The certificate specifies that the holder has passed the prescribed examinations in Revised Braille, and has satisfactorily embodied not less than fifty pages of braille manuscript.

Chapter Bought Machine

Mrs. Welsher has been using a braille typewriter purchased by Sierra Madre Red Cross Chapter last summer. The chapter also furnishes the paper on which the raised braille characters are embossed to provide reading matter for the blind. The little machine has six different characters or punches, which may be used in different combinations to produce 62 different letters, figures, characters, etc.

This work is carried on by the Red Cross because books printed or embossed in braille are too expensive for private ownership. The operator produces a single copy only, and an ordinary book might cost as much as $75 or $100. Books produced by volunteer operators such as Mrs. Welsher's are used as circulating copies.

Braille embossing is done on the loose sheets. The volunteer operator sends these to the Library of Congress where they are given a coat of shellac and bound into book form. A great range of literature is thus provided for people who could not afford to provide themselves with it.

Mrs. Welsher reports that she finds the work very interesting. She hopes to be able to carry out the Red Cross plan of enlisting others in the work, forming a local class for instruction and ultimately having a number of operators capable of keeping the chapter's braille machine busy.

In addition to producing braille literature for the blind, Mrs. Welsher offers to write letters for people who have blind friends to whom they would like to send communications in braille.

SUNDAY MARKS BEGINNING OF NEW QUARTER

Next Sunday the regular quarterly Communion Service will be held and new members received into the fellowship of the Congregational church. Dr. Tate will deliver a short Communion Sermon.

On Wednesday evening, July 6th, will deliver a short Communion Sermon at 6:30 the regular quarterly meeting of the church will be held. The Ladies Aid are providing a light supper and the Building and Finance committee of the church will present their reports.

There will be no evening services at the church during July and August but friends and members are asked to unite in the community services at the Wistaria Theater.

NEW BODY TO FOSTER CIVIC BEAUTY PLANS

Appointment of a new City Beautiful Committee to represent the Woman's Club is announced in a communication from the latter body to the city trustees. The members of the committee are now as follows: Mrs. W. J. Lawless, chairman, Mrs. H. T. Fennel, Mrs. Etta Wright, Mr. Frank Monroe Smith. While the committee is not given an official status by the city ordinance, there has been an understanding for a year or more that such matters as street tree planting, tree removal and other things affecting the aesthetic development of the city would be referred to the committee for advisory consideration.

Dr. W. A. Tate of the Congregational Church is at Pomona College, Claremont this week, giving instruction in methods at the Young People's Conference for Southern California.

SCALPING ON BONUS PAPER IS NOT SAFE

Attempts of "scalpers" to buy up for cash at large discounts adjusted compensation certificates from World War veterans will be met by drastic action. A statement to this effect was made by officials of the Veterans Bureau in San Francisco to representatives of the American Legion. Attention of the bureau was called to an advertisement in which a veteran offered to sell his certificate "to the highest bidder."

Bureau officials were also advised of the reports that a huge financial pool is being organized in a leading middle western city for the purpose of buying up compensation certificates in the hope of reaping big profit at the expense of the veteran and of the government. The "scalper," it was pointed out, will in all probability find himself, if he buys up such a certificate, with only a non-negotiable "scrap of paper." The government has no intention of permitting wholesale "scalping" of certificates, inquiry at the veteran's bureau and among members of congress revealed.

The law was carefully drawn, it was said, to protect the veteran and his dependent and to throw all possible safeguards around their interests. Section 606 of the law will prevent payment by the government to any other than the veteran himself or his dependents or beneficiaries designated only by the director of the veteran's bureau.

This section is as follows:

"No right to payment under the provisions of this title shall be assignable or serve as security for any loan. Any assignment or loan made in violation of the provisions of this section shall be held void. The director shall not make any payments under this title to any person other than the dependent or such representative of the dependent as the director shall by regulation prescribe."

Authorities are agreed, that persons who attempt to purchase adjusted service certificates will find themselves the losers.

SMITHSONIAN KEEPS RIGHT ON THE JOB

Dr. Charles G. Abbott who writes concerning the Smithsonian Institution in the Review of Reviews, spent a number of seasons on Mount Wilson. The Smithsonian observatory is perched far out on the point below the Monastery which houses the unattached male members of the staff of the Carnegie Observatory.

Compared to the Carnegie institution, the Smithsonian observatory is a small affair, but Dr. Abbott carried out there an important part of the program of solar studies. The objective was to determine the "solar constant," or exact radiant force of the sun. The elimination of the effect of atmospheric interference in the calculations was an involved and fascinating process.

How the purposes of James Smithsonian are being carried out by the Smithsonian Institution is described in part by Dr. Abbott as follows:

The Smithsonian Institution, as far as its meager resources permit, still continues the field explorations, investigations, and collections, which have so justly made it famous.

At home, in Washington, its staff is busy with the effort to make the world's stores of knowledge available to the people. In the words of its founder the mission of the institution is "The Increase and diffusion of knowledge among men."

To disclose the secrets of the atom; to show how every material and living thing is composed of but two primeval types, the ultimate grains of positive and negative electricity; to trace the development of forms in crystals and in life; to measure force and show how they can be put to the advantage of mankind; to aid those who study such things; to give a chance in science to exceptional men and women; all this is to increase knowledge.

To publish technically the results of investigations of these high subjects, so that the man of science can exactly know them and use them as stepping stones to further progress; to publish again interestingly, so that the intelligent man of culture, in the restful quiet of his fireside, may glimpse the march of knowledge; to publish again popularly in the public press so that he who runs may read not erroneous scientific news, to answer mail inquiries of those whose thought or experiences lead them to difficulties they have not the means to solve; to furnish specimens and publications to schools and libraries, where they will be available to the many; to exchange learned publications with institutions in other countries, all this is diffusion of knowledge among men. Such is the Smithsonian program.

Services at Wistaria On Sunday Eve.

Next Sunday a pleasant Sunday evening service with special music and motion pictures will be held and will combine throughout July and August in the Wistaria Theater.

This community service for everybody is being held under the auspices of the League of Youth of the Congregational Church. Dr. Tate will give a short talk illustrating the lesson of the picture. Here is a splendid opportunity for the whole community to have a share in a worth while community service. It is a contribution that the young people of the Congregational Church are trying to make to the Community life.

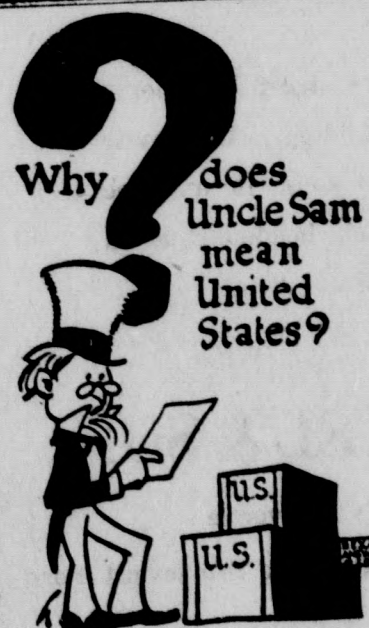

Special features will be announced from Sunday to Sunday.

A silver offering will be taken at the door to help defray expenses.

Charles Alexander Herman, a long time resident in Washington passed away last week. Mr. Herman was born in Berlin, Germany but spent the larger portion of his life in America. He came to Sierra Madre about 14 months ago for his health and died from diseases incident to old age. Dr. W. A. Tate of the First Congregational Church officiated at the funeral services and the remains were taken to Mountain View for cremation.

Opportunity

They do me wrong who say I come no more
When once I knock and fail to find you in;
For every day I stand outside your door,
And bid you wake and rise to fight and win.

Wail not for precious chances passed away,
Weep not for golden ages on the wane!
Each night I burn the records of the day—
At sunrise every soul is born again.

Laugh like a boy at splendors that have sped,
To vanished joys be blind and deaf and dumb;
My judgements seal the dead past with its dead,
But never bind a moment yet to come.
Though deep in mire, wring not your hands and weep;
I lend my arm to all who say "I can!"
No shamefaced outcast ever sank so deep
But yet might rise and be again a man.

Dost thou behold thy lost youth all aghast?
Dost reel from righteous Retribution's blow?
Then turn from blotted archives of the past,
And find the future's pages white as snow.
Art thou a mourner? Rouse thee from thy spell;
Art thou a sinner? Sins may be forgiven;
Each morning gives thee wings to flee from hell,
Each night a star to guide thy feet to heaven.
—From "Selected Poems," by Walter Malone

THE FUTURE CITIZEN

Chicago News: The need of a new commandment was stressed the other day by Horace J. Bridges, leader of the Chicago Ethical society, at the biennial social hygiene conference at the Woman's City club under the auspices of six leading woman's organizations.

"We have a commandment that tells us to honor our father and mother; we need another about honoring the children and the unborn," said Mr. Bridges.

The share of the home in the up-building of youth is to make the worth of life real by example and practice, Mr. Bridges said. The school and church have equal responsibilities, he added.

"The share of the school is to discipline intellect, to interpret the world and to summarize for the child what it has taken the world a half million years to find out. The business of the church is the upbuilding of youth and to make reality of the spiritual life convincing to young people.

"These things have never been done perfectly, and have to be done again for each generation. In science you can start the beginner where his predecessor left off. In morals you can't do it. Each generation must find out for itself.

"The thing we must do is to take a leaf out of the book of the Greeks and strive for perfect health and athleticism. The middle ages tried asceticism, which is negative, to get away from the evils of life. For that I would substitute athleticism, which is positive, and in that I would include mental athleticism."

Cities Unite For Defense In Rate Case

City Attorney Frederick Baker has been chosen chairman of the committee designated by the City Attorneys' Association of Los Angeles County to defend the interests of the cities and the public in the application for increased electric rates due to the water power shortage. Other members of the committee are Attorneys Bruce Mason of Long Beach, J. A. Allard of Pomona, C. I. Coffin of Santa Monica, T. C. Gould of Alhambra, J. H. Howard of Pasadena, and W. P. Thomas of Los Angeles.

It is the announced purpose of this committee to keep in close touch with the hearings on the application of the Edison Company. They will protest only if the sought-for increase seems exorbitant or against the public interest.

It will be remembered that the cities joined a similar manner in proceedings to secure a reduction of rates about two years ago and their activities were largely instrumental in securing lower rates which saved the public a large amount of money. At the meeting of the Sierra Madre trustees last week, an appropriation not to exceed $50 was agreed upon as Sierra Madre's probable share of the expenses of this action.

FOREST CHIEF APPEALS FOR SUMMER AID

The News has just received the following appeal from Paul G. Redington, District Forester with headquarters in San Francisco:

Dear Mr. Editor:

California is facing one of the most serious fire situations in its history. Not for many years have our fields and forests been the "tinder-box" that they are today. A combination of weather factors has brought about a trying condition and the stage is all set for some tremendous conflagrations. More than 400 fires, covering over 30,000 acres have already occurred this year within and adjacent to the National Forests, and scores of others have burned over State and private lands. And our regular fire season is just beginning.

Public education in care with fire and the united cooperation of all our citizens is the only means by which we shall ever be able to combat this fire hazard successfully and prevent appalling losses of timber, crops and even human life. Last year, over 80 per cent of the forest, brush and grain fires in California were directly due to careless acts of man. There is every indication that there will again be millions of visitors to our mountain regions this season with a correspondingly high fire risk.

The press of this state has always stood squarely behind us in our efforts to educate the public to a keener appreciation of the importance of the forest protection and I am again appealing to you to help carry the message of fire prevention to your readers, and to inform them of the menacing fire situation now confronting us. In this way only will it be possible to reach the millions of people in this State and impress them with the fact that when they are out of doors they should be as careful with fire as when they are in their own homes.—Paul G. Redington, District Forester.

"Oh, It's a Fake Is It?"

DO SUCH "DOUBTS" HOLD YOU AWAY?

"What is the truth about 'Chiropractic' anyway? I wonder if it could bring me relief from my Ailments? I heard it was a fake. Yet, can I depend on 'hearsay' evidence? It probably is alright. Plenty of people are recommending it to their best friends. I would like to try it. Well, had I better wait some more... and my disease is different, anyway; they can not help me... Still, perhaps, they may. But with their Spinal Adjustments they may injure me... yet, I have heard that babies are treated without trouble, I guess I can stand it, if a baby can. But, what has My spine to do with my Ailment? Darn it... but I do know of the many times I jarred it, twisted it, strained it... it certainly is possible for one of the Spinal bones to have slightly moved out of its normal position. And now it is interfering with the action of some of my Nerves. I should have my spine examined; just to make safe."

Do you have such doubts? What makes you hesitate from trying a system of treatments that can bring back comfort and health? In most cases a trial for even a dozen treatments eliminates all such doubt and proves to you what chance you have to regain your Health under Chiropractic.

BETTER PLAN TO APPORTION HIGHWAY TAX

To apportion the revenue derived from automobile licenses and gasoline tax among the cities and counties as well as to the state highway department is the purpose of an initiative act endorsed by the Sierra Madre city trustees at their last meeting. The act originated with the League of California Municipalities. Petitions to have it placed on the November ballot are now in circulation.

Motor vehicles and gasoline taxes now collected by the state are expended entirely by the state highway commission. There is no guaranty that the immense revenue so raised will be distributed equitably, with relation to the actual location of autos and density of traffic. The act is an attempt to accomplish this.

Registration Controls

By the terms of the proposed act one-half of all revenues raised by the state from the sources named would be retained by the state for highway purposes. The other half would be distributed to the various counties of the state in proportion to the number of motor vehicles registered in each. The money received by each county would be distributed to the various municipalities within the county in the proportion to the number of motor vehicles within each within incorporated cities but, the state bears to the total number registered within the country. The remainder retained by the county would represent the number of autos registered from unincorporated territory within the county.

As the law now stands most of the motor vehicles of the state are owned within incorporated cities but the state revenue is spent entirely in the country. Much of it is spent entirely outside the county. For instance, most of the roads of Los Angeles County are already improved. Hence, while the county pays the lion's share of the state highway revenue, very little of it is expended here. The proposed act is probably as equitable a method of distributing the revenue as could be devised. The half of the total which is retained by the state assures a substantial fund to be expended in the long stretches of highway in the sparsely settled regions where there are few autos and small property valuation on which to raise highway revenue locally.

Blank petitions are on file at the city hall and interested voters may sign them there.

"Well, suh," explained the thin person, drawing a deep breath, "over to Brother Jones' dey is measurin' de house fo' some new carpets. Dey ain't got no yardstick, and I's just exactly six feet tall. So, to oblige Brother Jones, I's been layin' down and gittin' up all over deir house."

Odd Kinship Reckoning.

The Indians of Alaska reckon kinship through the mother only. A man sets up a memorial column, not for his father, but for his mother's relatives—particularly her brother. A son has, according to their ideas, no connection with his father. A boy or young man looks to his maternal uncles for counsel and guidance. It is to them that he owes veneration and respect, and from them only he inherits property. It is the emblem of his mother's family that he carves on his totem pole, tattoos on his arms and chest and paints on his face. This custom makes it quite impossible to trace family lineage on the father's side.

EIGHT FACTS ABOUT RADIO IN SUMMER

The following eight important pointers for radio fans are furnished by Manager Farman of the Sierra Madre Electric Co.

1: Night vs. Day Range—

The night range of sending and receiving stations is much greater than the daylight range. Do not expect to hear stations a great distance away in the day time. There are nights, rare in winter and common in the summer, when it is impossible to bring in distant stations. This is due to atmospheric conditions beyond human control. This condition should be met philosophically as something that cannot be avoided, and not used as the basis of complaint to the radio dealer who sold you your set.

2: Batteries Are the Fuel—

A radio set will not work satisfactorily when the batteries are run down or nearly so. Keep your storage battery well charged, or if you use dry cells, always use cells that are in good condition. Test your B batteries with a voltmeter occasionally and renew them when the voltage is 40 per cent below normal. Never get impatient with your set. Nine chances out of ten a man familiar with radio can find your trouble in half a minute. If you will take the trouble to familiarize yourself with the principles of radio you can do the same. There is a reason for every radio trouble.

3: Watch the Details—

Don't talk about the wonders and mysteries of radio and the scientific and delicate sets that have made it possible, and then condemn the dealer or manufacturer when your set won't work with the aerial disconnected, the vacuum tubes burned out, or the batteries connected with the wrong polarity. A scientific instrument, even so popular a one as a radio set, must be treated in an intelligent manner.

4: Learn the Art of Tuning—

If you have not learned to tune properly, but manage to tune in on one long distance station, don't condemn your set because you do not hear the m. all. The fact that you heard one distant station shows that the set is all right; all you need is patience and practice and you will be able to get the same far away stations as your neighbors.

5: Brighter Tubes Mean Less Life—

Don't expect to get louder or clearer music when your vacuum tubes are turned up brighter than normal. If anything, the reception will be less loud and there will be unpleasant noises introduced. Remember also that a slight overload on the tubes will make them burn out in a fraction of their normal life.

6: Don't Miss Today's Program—

Radio does not change overnight any more than does the automobile, the phonograph or the sewing machine. The set that you buy today will be good a year from today, and probably for many years. The long distance receiving sets in thousands of homes at present are practically identical, with a few minor refinements, to the sets that were used by radio telegraph enthusiasts five years ago.

If you have postponed getting a good radio set because you are waiting for a radical change in radio, you are missing more enjoyment than the individual who puts off buying an automobile for the same reason. Radio is not new—it is not a fad; popular interest has merely become more widespread in the past year. Radio telephone broadcasting has been conducted on a small scale for years; and radio telegraph broadcasting for a decade or more.

7: World's Greatest Entertainment—

Don't expect your radio set to act like a phonograph. You can't push the button for grand opera or jazz and get it. You will hear many stations better than a phonograph, but some of them cannot be heard over a loud speaker for the reason that they are out of your range. When you analyze it, you will realize that this fact lies at the root of the lure of radio. The fascination is in the uncertainty of the thing: always a chance at something new, greater distances to cover, and the ever-increasing mystery of the science. If you just had to push the button to bring anything you wanted to hear, you would probably discard the set in a month. As it is, the experience of those who have followed radio since its inception decidedly indicates that "once a radio fan, always a radio fan."

8: Lightning Protection Simple—

With a loop or an indoor aerial

there is of course no need for lightning protectors. In the case of the outdoor aerial, the condition is different. During a lightning storm the aerial picks up a considerable amount of static electricity, which should be provided with an easy path to the ground, in order to protect the receiving instruments. The danger is not that the lightning will strike the aerial and then set fire to the house. If lightning strikes an aerial it burns up the wire before it gets to the ground. But the static charges coming from flashes of lightning some distance away are liable to do some harm if not provided for by a grounding switch or protector of some kind.

THE NEXT STEP

Having by such a large majority passed the water conservation bonds, those interested in the conservation movement will naturally ask, "What next?" or perhaps conclude that their activities are finished and that further effort in this direction is unnecessary. It may be pointed out at this time, however, that there is a distinct need for an active interest on the part of the Farm Bureau members and others interested in conservation to see that the improvements authorized by this bond issue are completed rapidly and efficiently. However, far more important to us, having now decided on the construction of these dams and other water works, is the protection of our mountain water sheds. It can certainly be of no profit to us to construct a dam in a mountain canyon and then allow it to become filled with mud and other detritus which will inevitably follow unless the brush cover is protected from fire. Fire protection is therefore, in the opinion of the leaders of the conservation movement, the next step after the passage of the bond issue. It is not only essential to work for fire protection after these dams are completed, but at the present moment as well. It should be particularly borne in mind that the present dry season with the increasing number of pleasure seekers visiting the mountains constitutes the most serious fire hazard in our experience.—Farm Bureau Monthly.

PRICES LOWER SHOWS BETTER AT WISTARIA

Ticket taxes are off at the Wistaria Theater. Manager Brown announces the good news with the further statement that he will give his patrons the rest of the nickel, making the regular admission charge 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

There is not a theater in Southern California giving better programs for the money. If you don't believe it, just look over the bill for the coming week, and also the bill for the present week. All are high class pictures, most of them now showing in Los Angeles, Pasadena, Long Beach and the larger places.

Don't forget "The Acquittal," scheduled for Thursday and Friday nights this week. It is a strong screen presentation of a popular stage success. Claire Windsor, Norman Kerry, Richard Travers and Barbara Bedford are names you never see on a film which is not worth while.

For Saturday and Monday Walter Hiers comes in "60 Cents an Hour." The fat comedian races through a riot of laughs that are likely to raise the roof.

Sunday evening the theater will be in charge of the League of Youth of the Congregational Church. No admission charge but a silver offering will be taken to defray expenses. Special music and a brief address by Dr. W. A. Tate. The picture will be "As a Little Child." This will be a community Sunday evening service.

For Tuesday and Wednesday the film is "The Daring Years."

The heart and soul of youth in glorious strength and pitiful weakness are strikingly shown. Hoot Gibson in "The Thrill Chaser" proves that you can't keep a good man down. He portrays a cowboy who started as a film extra at $3 a day and wound up doubling for a sheik in Arabia. It's a scream.

Don't forget the lower prices are now in force without any sacrifice of quality.

MORGAN-CORNES

The marriage of Miss Lenore Edna Morgan, former Sierra Madre girl, and William Joyner Cornes of Monrovia, took place Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Edward Morgan, of Cleveland, Ohio, Saturday evening, June 28.

According to the Monrovia News the wedding was to have been held in the garden of the Morgan home at 2854 Corydon Road, Cleveland Heights, but owing to the storm that swept that country Saturday evening, it is presumed here that the plans were changed. Twenty-four relatives and friends attended the wedding.

Mr. Cornes and his bride are expected in Monrovia, July 15 and a group of relatives and friends plan to meet them in Los Angeles. They will live temporarily at 180 North Myrtle Avenue, Monrovia, but will later occupy a home that Mr. Cornes has built on North Alta Vista.

The bride lived in Sierra Madre several years ago and it was then that she and Mr. Cornes met. The groom, who formerly owned what is now the Olsen grocery, is well known to a large circle of friends here. He is now salesman for the Monrovia Buick Agency. He has been making his home with his aunt, Mrs. Frank A. Jones at 129 North Encinitas.

OLSEN PLANS BIG SALE OF SHOE STOCK

Henry Olsen is going to take a vacation the rest of this week, his first vacation since the war, as a preparation for the big sale of high grade shoes which he announces for next week. Following the practice of a large number of stores in Los Angeles, Pasadena, Monrovia and elsewhere, his shoe store will remain closed from Friday until Monday. Next week Mr. and Mrs. Olsen ought to be kept busy waiting on customers seeking the bargains in footwear which are offered in their one-week clearance sale.

NAZARENES MEETING AT CLUB HOUSE

The Nazarene Tent Meetings which were to be held at Mira Monte and Mt. Trail Avenues have been transferred to the Woman's Club House. The meetings began Sunday evening, June 29 and are planned to run two weeks. They are being held under the auspices of the Young People of the East Washington Street Church of the Nazarene, Pasadena. The public is invited.

Forgetting leaves far less of a tough edge than forgiving does.

REAL MEANING OF FIGHT FOR OUR LIBERTIES

(From the Independence Day address of Hon. Robert E. Saner of Texas, president of the American Bar Association, in Independence Hall, Philadelphia.)

"We know that the Declaration of Independence was not so much the mark of severance between England and America as it was an evidence of the advanced position taken in the conflict between the rule of the people and the divine right of kings. And as such it becomes, along with Magna Charta, the Petition of Rights, the Habeas Corpus Act and the Bill of Rights, one of the world's great charters of Liberty."

"We know that Valley Forge is not the shrine where all men bow in silent, tender emotion, because it was the place of preparation for a victorious campaign, but because it typified the spirit of vicarious sacrifice; because it furnished an example of fortitude, of self-reliance, of patriotic resolve, of undying devotion, of self-sufficient, but unassuming Americanism, that men and women of today might follow with honor to themselves and credit to the country which gave them birth."

"In this city, where the Old Liberty Bell first rang out with glad acclaim, let her voice again be heard, announcing to the world that the same spirit that animated these streets in 1776 still reigns supreme throughout all America; that in the halls of Congress, in our churches, in our homes, in our inmost souls there shall be a rededication to the ideals of our Revolutionary Fathers as expressed in their lives, their acts, and their institutions, not merely for love of ancestry, nor for blind tradition, but because those ideals were and are, and must continue to be, right."

Miss Ruth Klemme entertained Wednesday night at her home, 354 North Canyon. The guests were the Misses Mattie Seeley, Alice Stanley, Linda Schwartz, Viola Fennel, Grace Borradaile, Mildred Zeller, Mesdames Stella Dennison and Edna Wiggins.
